The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claim 1-3,5,7,8 and 21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. The term "non-foldable" of claims 1-3,5,7,8 and 21 is not found in the specification.

The arguments on pages 15-16 of the 116(b) response of 12/28/04 are not well taken regarding this issue. No where can the examiner find "non-foldable" in the instant specification and applicant has pointed to none. As to the term "planar", although this term is not in the disclosure, Fig. 9 lends support for this term.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1,2,5,7,10,12,15,17 and 21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Dahl taken with Tegg et al, for the reasons advanced in the previous rejection.

The In re Jones test applied on page 17 of the arguments is deemed met in that the level of ordinary skill would reside well above that of placing a floor in a structural unit as defining invention. Regarding claim 21, nothing here defines over the rejection supra .

The amendment filed 12/28/04 is objected to under 35 U.S.C. 132 because it introduces new matter into the disclosure. 35 U.S.C. 132 states that no amendment shall introduce new matter into the disclosure of the invention. The added material which is not supported by the original disclosure is as follows: the term "non-foldable" introduced on pages 6-7 constitutes new matter.

Applicant is required to cancel the new matter in the reply to this Office Action.

Claims 3,8 and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the art as applied to claim1 above, and further in view of Braxton'836' as set forth in the previous action.

Claims 4,9,14 and 18-20 stand withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in the reply filed previously. The requirement is made final.

As to the issue of claims 12 and 21, discussed on page 2, the RCE filing renders this issue moot and that of page 9, line 6 being incomplete is withdrawn.

Any inquiry concerning this communication should be directed to Charles E. Phillips at telephone number 571-272-4893.
